

PARENT RESOURCE SHEET

WEBSITES THAT EVERY PARENT SHOULD KNOW ABOUT!

Stand to Reason – An outstanding resource with articles, podcasts, and videos that help students understand and defend their faith. It's one thing for kids to know what they believe; it's another to know why they believe it. As Stand to Reason puts it, their mission is "to help Christians think more clearly about their faith and make an even-handed, incisive, yet gracious defense for classical Christianity."

Axis - Axis exists to equip parents to have gospel-centered conversations with their teens about faith and culture. They offer a wealth of practical resources, including the Culture Translator—a free weekly email that helps parents understand today's teen culture through a biblical lens. You'll also find conversation kits, podcasts, parent guides, 7-minute videos, and much more to help you in the journey of discipling your teenager with confidence.

The Center For Parent & Youth Understanding (CPYU) - Walt Mueller is the GOAT! I've been following and using his ministry resources for over 20 years. Walt is well researched and breaks down today's youth culture through a Biblical lens. Lots of great resources for parents.

Screenagers - Not a Christian resource, but excellent insight and well researched information. Delaney Ruston, MD, is a leading authority on parenting in the digital age and is the filmmaker of the award-winning Screenagers movies, where she explores strategies for raising screen-wise and tech-balanced youth.

RECOMMENDED READING & FAMILY DEVOTIONALS

Tactics: A Game Plan for Discussing Your Christian Convictions

by Greg Kockul

A modern apologetics classic! In Tactics, Gregory Koukl teaches practical, gracious ways to engage in meaningful conversations about faith. Learn how to ask thoughtful questions, respond with confidence, expose faulty thinking, and clearly communicate the truth of the gospel. Rather than simply winning arguments, this book equips you to help people think seriously about Jesus.

Who Is God? 52 Pictures to Share with Your Family

by Kate and Joe Hox

Devotions and illustrations are paired to present families with a big view of God, who is the same yesterday, today, and forever. Each devotion includes a captivating illustration, a key verse to remember, Bible passages for reference, and reflection questions. There are 52 chapters so families can use Who Is God? as their weekly devotional for an entire year. I really like that they use stories from the Old and New Testaments showing readers how all Scripture is connected and what it reveals about God from beginning to end.

Who Is Jesus? 40 Pictures to Share with Your Family

The Bible is filled with stories and symbols that point us to Jesus as the Savior, the only One who can bring us back to God. In Who Is Jesus? Joe and Kate Hox combine illustrations and deep thoughts simply shared to guide family devotions and encourage rich conversations about who Jesus is, why he came to earth, and how we can get to know him now.

Indescribable: 100 Devotions About God and Science

by Louie Giglio

Space has always fascinated me because I think it's where God starts to show us just how big He really is! In this devotional, kids and adults will discover the Wonders of the Universe. Based on Louie Giglio's popular messages "Indescribable" and "How Great Is Our God," Indescribable: 100 Devotions About God & Science will help kids discover the incredible creation of our indescribable God. Indescribable displays the majesty of creation with scientific findings, photography, and original illustrations.

Phase Guides From Orange

Every year of your child's life brings new changes and new opportunities. These easy-to-read guides, covering birth through 12th grade, will help you understand what to expect and how to parent well through each stage.